OBJECTIVE

AGMARDT supports initiatives that develop future leaders and thinkers within the agribusiness sector. There is huge potential in our sector and these scholarships aim to develop that potential. We are looking for the next generation of leaders who will use their fresh ideas and skills to ensure agribusiness continues to play its vital role in New Zealand. The Leadership Scholarship programme provides outstanding individuals with the financial support they need to develop their ideas and skills and will help ensure that our regions and communities remain vibrant and economically sustainable.

Our Leadership Scholarships are available for individuals wishing to advance their leadership or governance skills necessary to take on future roles within agribusiness. We believe that the success of New Zealand's food and fibres sector will be driven by talented and inspired leaders. We are looking for innovative approaches to leadership development, not just a course or two, but a programme of activity that will build your capability across a range of areas.

The Leadership Scholarship provides an opportunity for individual applicants to:

- Achieve their potential through a comprehensive, personalised development plan.
- Develop and advance their management, leadership and governance skills.
- Enable them to explore personal development beyond New Zealand's borders.
- Participate in programmes that make a positive difference to New Zealand's food and fibre sectors and are aligned with AGMARDT's strategic interests and purpose.

AVAILABILITY

Leadership Scholarships will be available on an annual basis. The maximum Scholarship value is $15,000 (Incl. GST) per Scholarship awarded.

The Trustees reserve the right to approve applications outside of this timeframe and vary the level of contribution required and/or allocate a smaller amount than originally requested by the applicant.
